MOLDED CHOCOLATE BARS
EXEMPT FROM SET-ASIDE

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 13---Manufacturers of molded chocolate bars will be exempt from the War Food Administration order of October 7 which requires makers of most candy bars to set aside 50 percent of their output for the armed forces, according to Mal Xavier, special commodities branch field representative of the WFA Office of Distribution.

Reason for the exemption, Xavier said, is not that molded chocolate bars are less in demand, but the fact that makers of this type of confection have voluntarily diverted more than 50 percent of their production to meet military needs.

The set-aside order of October 7 applies generally to manufacturers whose monthly output of five-cent bars, rolls and packaged candy exceeds 10,000 cartons a month.

CANNED PRUNES, APPLES OFFERED PROCESSORS---The regional Office of Distribution of the War Food Administration today announced 471 cases of canned prunes are being offered for sale to the Starr Fruit Co., Portland, original packers of the prunes.

Charles W. Smith, regional food chief, said government-held stocks are being turned over where advantageous and are being replaced with food from ^{the} current year's pack. In addition, he said, commodities no longer necessary for immediate military or lease-lend use are being returned to civilian trade channels.

Simultaneously WFA is offering 1,500 cases of canned apple slices for sale to original packers. The apples are held in Michigan. Offers by original packers for purchase of both commodities must be received not later than October 27, Smith said.
